Indian Avenue Bridge Opens Saturday

Span Allows Free Flow At U.S. Route

Latest Improvement Is Second Major One On Thoroughfare

The Indian Avenue overpass bridge and traffic interchange with U.S. 60-70-99 at Garnet is expected to be opened to traffic either late this afternoon or tomorrow, according to word received from C. V. Kane, district engineer of the State Division of Highways in San Bernardino.

In addition to providing an uninterrupted flow of traffic along Indian Avenue, this interchange will also provide for left-hand turns in both directions from U.S. 60-70-99 to Indian Avenue without interference with opposing traffic.

THE BRIDGE is a reinforced plate girder type with a welded concrete deck about 211 feet in length with a clear roadway width of 28 feet, and was built by O. B. Pearson Inc., of Los Alamitos, at a cost of approximately $200,000.

This is the second major improvement along Indian Avenue within the past few years. The first, which was completed late in 1953, was the overpass over the Southern Pacific tracks at Garnet. Traffic can now flow without interruption between the Palm Springs and Desert Hot Springs area, Kane said.

THE OVERPASS bridge is the second to be finished this month in this area, with the first being the realignment of the highway at Araby Point.

Plans for dedication of the Indian Avenue overpass bridge are now being formulated by the North Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs and Palm Springs Chambers of Commerce, along with the Desert Hot Springs Improvement Association. It is tentatively scheduled for the Saturday afternoon following the opening, or Dec. 1.

Austria Appeals For Aid in Influx Of Hungarians

VIENNA (AP)—Hungarians fleeing Soviet terror and the threat of Siberian concentration camps poured into Austria in ever increasing numbers today and the Austrian government appealed to the world for help.

From 6,000 to 8,000 refugees were crossing the border each night, taking the facilities of the refugees-packed nation to feed and house them in near zero weather. There was no sign the flow would end.

THE RUSSIANS were doing everything possible to stop them, but the Hungarians were braving Soviet bullets and freezing weather in their break for freedom. Many slumped to the ground suffering from cold and frostbite, their faces pinched with hunger. Some had splashed through the icy border canals and their clothes had to be chopped from them. An 18-year-old girl walked all the way from Budapest on frostbitten feet, each step toward freedom bringing excruciating pain. Many were drowned, some were frozen to death.

GREAT AIRLIFTS were flying refugees to friendly countries throughout the world, but the need was for trains to take the thousands to nations better prepared to handle their needs.

Bruno Kreisky, undersecretary in the Austrian foreign office, told a news conference Thursday, "We call on all democratic nations to speed up help without setting any conditions." He said the flow of refugees was creating an "alarming situation."

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said before leaving for Washington he would bring pressure on the United States government to take in as many refugees as possible by the end of the year.

BROWNIE SCOUT training plays an important part in the character development of young girls, according to Mrs. Frank Hamerschlag, chairman of the Girl Scouts group here, and this training will be a thing of the past in Palm Springs unless mothers and other interested persons volunteer as Brownie leaders. One of the fun phases of the

Parking Rules for Unincorporated Areas Again Hit County Deadlock

Petitions by the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee and the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce failed to change the feeling of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors in regard to off-street parking requirements for unincorporated areas, with the county's governing body deadlocking 2-2 on the measure.

This is the third time the matter has been brought before the supervisors. Once it was tabled, and then it was defeated by a 3-2 vote prior to the deadlock which resulted when Supervisor Roman Warren was absent.

Fire Destroys San Diego Bank

SAN DIEGO, (AP)—Fire last night virtually destroyed the El Cajon Boulevard branch of the Bank of America in East San Diego.

Seven fire companies battled the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately. Bank records and money were not endangered because they were kept in a fireproof vault.

Austrian Guards Shoot Russian

EISENSTADT, Austria, (AP)—Austrian frontier guards today shot and killed a Russian soldier who crossed from Hungary into Austria to hunt escaping refugees.

A frontier police spokesman said the Russian was one of three who strayed together across the frontier. Of the others, one was taken into custody and the third fled back to the Hungarian side of the frontier.

Air Tankers Thrown Into Winning Fight Against Five-Day Brush Fire

San Bernardino, Calif. (AP)—Seven aerial tanker planes were used today in a desperate attempt to control a five-day brush fire which has blackened more than 13,000 acres in mountains near here.

The Stearman tanker planes joined forces with more than 1,000 tired and dirty fire fighters battling the blaze on a 10-mile front. The planes were used to dump a borax and water mixture on the raging eastern flank of the fire.

BUT THE FIREFIGHTERS appeared to be slowly gaining the upper hand. Strong gusty winds which whipped the blaze into an inferno for four days have diminished and forest officials predict control by this weekend providing good weather continues.

Dick Johnson, fire prevention officer for the San Bernardino National Forest, said no homes were in the present path of the fire.

The plan for requiring parking space for every building constructed in the county area is the result of extensive study by the Riverside County Planning Commission.

Future action on this problem will be considered by the CVAPC at its next meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday, at the Indio Hotel. It was termed a "major problem" at the last meeting.

California Jobs In Manufacturing Hit Record High

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Manufacturing employment in California reached 1,270,200 during October to set an all time high for the month, according to Ernest B. Webb, director of industrial relations.

New employment highs in eight manufacturing industries helped boost the October figure to 95,000 more than during the previous October, Webb said.

The eight industries were printing and publishing, chemicals, ordnance, furniture and fixtures, primary metals, machinery, electrical equipment and scientific instruments.

Manufacturing employment in the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area rose to 203,700 wage and salary workers during October, a 5 percent increase over last year. Unemployment insurance claims were 11 percent below October, 1955.

Webb said 760,200 persons were employed in factories in the Los Angeles-Long Beach metropolitan area, 47,600 more than a year ago and 11,100 above the previous high established in August.

He Said the Western Flank Appears to be Nearly Under Control but the Eastern Front 'Is Tough and Go'

Quick action by firefighters halted flames within a few hundred yards of the foothill community of Del Rosa following a fresh outbreak fanned by gusty winds Thursday.

FIRE FIGHTING crews spent a grim Thanksgiving on the fire lines. The crews managed, however, to get a bite of turkey. Forest officials had 700 turkeys cooked and served to the small army of firefighters along with all the trimmings.

The fire, believed to have been touched off Monday by a cigarette thrown from an automobile, already has claimed the life of one firefighter and critically burned several others. At least five homes have been destroyed along with several other buildings.

Flash: Winchell's TV Show Cut Off As a Fizzle

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Winchell and his TV variety show have piffed.

The Broadway columnist has announced that his sponsors will not pick up his option when his current contract runs out in six weeks.

Winchell, who will receive some $75,000 in severance pay, launched the NBC-TV show Oct. 5. It has featured such top performers as Perry Como, Sammy Davis Jr. and Martha Ray, but rating-wise has not quite lived up to expectations.

Its latest Nielsen rating of 20.1 shows it splitting audiences about evenly with ABC-TV's "Crossroad" at 21.2 and CBS-TV's "Zane Grey Theatre" at 20.1.

On Tuesday, it will be at the same location from 9 a.m. to noon, and 1 to 4 p.m., and again in the evening from 6 to 9 p.m. On Wednesday, it will be in operation from 9 a.m. to noon, and 1 to 4 p.m.

This will be the ninth year that Mrs. McClure has volunteered her services to work the night shift, according to Mrs. Hansen.

This service to the public is paid for by the proceeds from the purchase of Christmas seals. Additional Seals, besides those mailed to residents, may be purchased at "Tom's Magazine Stand" in the Post Office, and at the registration tables at the Mobile Unit.

Auto Hits Tree, Kills Four Farm Workers

SAN LUIS REY (AP)—Four Mexican contract farm workers were killed and two injured critically today when a speeding car failed to make a curve on old State Highway 76 and crashed broadside into a tree.

All of the men were employed by and lived at Yasukochi Farms, San Luis Rey.

Merchants Map Shop in Village Christmas Plan

Retail Merchants Division of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce will conduct an extensive Christmas shopping promotion again this year, concentrating as usual on out-of-town shoppers to come here for gift buying, and adding a local campaign to have residents "Buy in Palm Springs."

The promotion will be sponsored by the Merchants Division, aided by the Chamber of Commerce, hotels, and contributions from individual merchants. Don Fry is chairman of the campaign.

In other action at the meeting, the group heard reports on the success of "Get Acquainted Week," which was originated by the Merchants, and on Western Week.

The Merchants Division will not meet in December, according to President Adrian Rosen.

Juveniles Start 7 Brush Fires

Seven brush fires were brought under control by local firemen last night, all of which were believed started by juveniles.

Some of the fires were started in brush in Section 14, and at least three involved barricades on Sunrise Way, on which flames had been turned over causing the wooden barricades to burn.

KETTMANN WARNS OF DECEMBER UPSURGE OF FRAUDS AND THEFTS

A warning to merchants and residents of Palm Springs area was issued today by August G. Kettmann, chief of police, who listed security precautions directed toward the month preceding Christmas.

He drew special attention to the abuse of magazine salesmen who represent themselves fraudulently as sales representatives of national magazines.

Residents should be very wary, especially before Christmas, when Special attention was called to a current legitimate magazine solicitation campaign which is currently being conducted by freshmen and sophomores of the Palm Springs High School. Money collected will be put into the student body fund. These solicitors carry subscription blanks labeled "SCHOOL," and all are high school students.

propositions are offered of package magazine deals to be purchased on a gift order basis, Kettmann said. Solicitors must have a permit from the City of Palm Springs, and "anyone approached on magazine sales should call the Police Department to verify whether the salesman has been properly screened," he added.

A LIST OF the most notorious fraudulent operators is kept at the department and citizens may be instrumental in bringing about the arrest of wanted persons if they call.

Punishment for not having a license for house-to-house sales is listed as a misdemeanor and carries a $500 fine or six months in jail or both.

A further warning was issued on placing Christmas packages into unlocked automobiles, where they could be picked up by bystanders who see the person leaving the vicinity of the car. The Chief of Police said that is often easier and cheaper to lock them in the trunk of the vehicle, where they cannot be seen or taken by passersby.

LOCAL BUSINESSMEN have completed plans to safeguard against shoplifting, which every year costs millions of dollars to businesses across the nation. Shoplifting is very common during the Christmas season, and local stores, aside from having every possible protection from the local police department, will employ plainclothesmen who will operate in anti-shoplifting details.

During this season, police have had numerous complaints of bad check passers, and today the local department is testing its newly established "bad check alerting system," which in the past has proved to be very effective. Once the system is put into use, within less than 10 minutes every merchant is warned of a "passer" operating here.

Riverside Holds Three Suspects in Marijuana Case

Three young men are in custody by Riverside County Sheriff's office today on charges of possession of narcotics, marijuana, after deputies Donald Gorman and Frank Danilch, while on routine patrol on the Indian Reservation in Palm Canyon, checked on a car parked in the area.

The three, identified as John R. Calderon, 22, of Panning; Marcus C. Marquez, 24, of Palm Springs, and Augustine G. Merenda, 19, of Panning, have made no admission to the crime of which they have been accused.

Deputies said they found four marijuana cigarettes in possession of the men at the time of their arrest last night.

They are scheduled to appear before Judicial District Court Judge Eugene Theriault today.

Under the state law, if the three are found guilty of the crime, the car, owned by Calderon, will be forfeited to the state.

U.S. Limits Age Of Homes It Will Help Finance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's home mortgage buying agency today restricted future purchases to mortgages on houses not more than four months old.

The Federal National Mortgage Association said it will confine its purchases to mortgages that are offered within four months following the date of the Federal Housing Administration Insurance or the Veterans Administration certificate of guaranty.

Until now the agency would buy up any acceptable government-backed mortgages.

J. Stanley Baughman, president of the agency, said the action "is designed not only to make more funds available for financing new construction and help home builders and others engaged in the industry but to help prospective buyers of new homes as well."

President Acts To Enjoin Strike Of Dock Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower prepared today to seek a Taft-Hartley injunction to halt the crippling Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock strike.

The President interrupted Thanksgiving to invoke the national emergency provision of the Taft-Hartley Act and set up a fact-finding board to investigate the eight-day old tieup.

Board Chairman Thomas W. Holland said he hoped to have a report at the White House by late this afternoon, clearing the way for the government to seek a strike-halting injunction.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. was ready to seek the injunction in Federal Court in New York upon receipt of orders from the White House.

Two Argentina Uprisings Nipped

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—President Pedro E. Agramonte appeared today to have successfully put down two separate threats to his regime by prominent army officers.

Will Pull Out One Battalion Very Soon

Others To Leave As Fast As U.N. Troops Arrive

LONDON (AP)—The Allied commander in Egypt announced today he would withdraw one battalion of British troops "almost immediately," but Egypt hinted it considered Britain and France finished as major powers in the Middle East.

The Egyptian government newspaper Al Gomhouriya said today in Cairo it would guarantee freedom of navigation through the Suez Canal to all nations except Britain and France. However, it did not threaten to bar them from the waterway.

"ANGLO-FRENCH aggression has put an end to the Suez Canal problem as far as the two nations are concerned," it said, "but Egypt is prepared to give all guarantees to the rest of the world regarding freedom and navigation" of the canal.

"Egypt from today will never recognize Britain and France as two major powers," the paper said.

GEN. SIR CHARLES Keightley, former British commander in the Suez Canal Zone and now commander-in-chief of the Anglo-French invasion force, flew to Port Said from his headquarters on Cyprus and announced the withdrawal of the British battalion.

He said one battalion would be withdrawn "almost immediately" in keeping with the pledge made to the United Nations by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. He promised to withdraw other forces "as fast as U.N. troops arrive."

EGYPT ALREADY has rejected Anglo-French plans for a gradual withdrawal, and said if they did not get out at once they faced the possibility of provoking a third world war. Egypt was backed by an Afro-Asian resolution in the United Nations calling for immediate withdrawal.

Informed sources said Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd would press the United Nations for "full implementation" of the General Assembly's withdrawal resolution which also called for reopening the canal and the restoration of freedom of navigation.

THE BRITISH government itself was torn by dissension over the Suez crisis, and a major fight was shaping up in the United Nations where an Afro-Asian bloc was prepared to demand that Britain, France and Israel leave Egypt "forthwith."

THE ISRAELI foreign office announced its forces in the Sinai Desert had withdrawn "up to 50 kilometers" about 31 miles, apparently from their forward positions only 10 miles from the canal.

Britain announced withdrawal of a token force of one battalion and France said it had pulled out one-third of its troops and two-thirds of its navy.

But both Britain and France were reported to fear their withdrawal now would delay for many months the reopening of the Suez Canal whose blocking by sunken ships already has produced an oil shortage in Europe and cut into the economy of many nations.

Pope Looks Hale In Addressing 400

VATICAN CITY, (AP)—Pope Pius XII, looking in remarkable health for a man of 80, addressed 400 representatives of Italian mountain villages in a mass audience here today.

Persons who attended the audience said they saw no basis for reports that the Pope had a cold or a touch of influenza. Vatican sources said the reports were incorrect.

The report of the Pope's indisposition originated with a private news agency specializing in Vatican coverage. It said that influenza was slight, and did not affect his daily working schedule.

AMERICANISM, one of the primary functions of the Brownies' learning program, may not be taught youngsters this year because of a tremendous lack of leadership in the local Brownie troops. Mrs. Frank Hamerschlag issued an appeal to all local women this week to find time to volunteer as a Brownie leader. Brownies, a preface to Girl Scouting, are supported financially by the Community Chest. The color guard in the above picture includes Jeri Chiha, Donna Colletti and Glenda Frisbie. Brownie Scouts Need of Leaders Termed 'Urgent'

An urgent need for Brownie Troop leaders was explained today by Mrs. Frank Hamerschlag, director of Girl Scouting here.

According to Mrs. Hamerschlag, with some 8 leaders needed, the troop has only one at this date. She has sent out an urgent appeal, through school children, in the form of a letter to parents asking that they help in guiding the Brownie Troop.

She said that other communities in this area have filled their need for leaders, and they include troops in Cathedral City, North Palm Springs and Desert Hot Springs.

The Brownies, which in effect are the same to the Girl Scouts as Cubs are to the Boy Scouts, in past years have been very active in this community and both organizations are supported by the Community Chest.

Last year more than 200 young girls belonged to the Brownies.

In her estimate of the number of parents and/or leaders needed, Mrs. Hamerschlag said that there were 15 or 16 girls in each room of the seven local schools, and at least 12 leaders are required for each of the schools.

"An appeal will also be made through local women's organizations, to find out if there are not some who would like to take on this important work, which moulds the future life of these girls," said Mrs. Hamerschlag.

If anyone is interested in becoming a leader, they can contact Mrs. Hamerschlag at the Girl Scout House or at her home.

Monaco Worries; World Loses Interest in Birth

MONTE CARLO @—Just a few weeks back it seemed so important: Will Princess Grace have a boy, a girl or, best of all, twins? Now the inhabitants of romantic little Monaco have the unhappy feeling that a world caught in crisis really doesn't care a great deal.

The people of Monaco were taking the scheduled February arrival of a new heir to the Grimaldi throne seriously. So seriously they were investing money in preparation for throngs expected here for the logical follow-up to last spring's wedding.

When Prince Rainier and the princess returned here from the United States, they found two rooms of the palace converted into a nursery. The rooms formerly were museum-like galleries open to the public. They have been decorated in blue and pink—suitable to either sex.

THE PALACE HAS undergone a thorough scrubbing and waxing throughout its 200 rooms. The public has been barred at considerable loss of revenue. The frescos in the royal courtyard have been carefully restored by two Louvre experts from Paris.

A new movie house, Europe's plushiest, has been built underground. It is beneath the famous sporting club. Decorated in the Monacan colors, red and white, it cost almost $250,000. It has a royal box with adjoining royal bathrooms and sitting rooms.

ACROSS THE SQUARE, the faded old gambling casino is getting a Las Vegas transfiguration. Casino President Pierre Rey has gone to Nevada to find out what makes gambling there so popular and profitable.

Monte Carlo hopes the world comes to its senses soon enough to appreciate a really important event.

'Coming or Going?' Half Don't Know

MIAMI @—Capt. Paul Denham of the police department's traffic division has been suspecting that drivers can't tell whether these new fangled cars are coming or going.

Now he has the facts to prove his point.

In support of an idea that drivers should be required to turn on their headlights day and night in rural areas, Denham conducted a test Tuesday to see whether motorists could tell the back from the front of the 1957 model cars.

Denham and Lt. James Ford stopped some 300 drivers at various distances from five new model automobiles and asked them whether the back or the front of the car was facing them.

Only 55 gave correct answers and a number of these said they were merely guessing.

Police Reserves Honor Bill Lux For Leadership

Lt. William Lux, for many years coordinator of the Palm Springs Police Reserve, was honored by the Reservists Tuesday night and presented with a plaque in appreciation of his work.

Lt. Lux, who on Nov. 1 was promoted to his present rank, has been transferred to command the night shift at the local department, and has turned over his duties with the Reserve to Capt. Orest Johnson.

Scene of the ceremonies was the Palm Springs Ranch Club, where the Police Association hosted 19 Reservists and their wives to dinner, in appreciation of the help the organization has been to the city police force.

Association President, Lt. Dale Thompson presided over a brief business meeting during which time the Reserves heard Chief of Police August G. Kettmann, pile praise and gratitude on the efforts of the men who work without remuneration, along with police employees.

He paid particular tribute to the wives of members of the Reserves, who he said, "had given up many things because their husbands were working a road race or rodeo."

Pappy Landfield catered the dinner.

'Obviously Drunk' Hard to Enforce

SACRAMENTO @—Stockton Police Chief Jack O'Keefe told the final session of an Assembly group hearing the state law forbidding barkeeps to serve "obviously drunk" persons was a hard one to enforce.

O'Keefe told the Assembly Government Organization Committee Tuesday night it was hard to convict a bartender for serving as "obviously drunk" person because the word "obvious" was so vague.

The chief said that the definition of a drunk person should be the same as that of a drunk driver.

and Police Capt. Orest Johnson. The ceremonies were held in conjunction with a Police Association sponsored dinner in honor of the Reserves. Captain Johnson has taken over as coordinator of the Police Reserve. (Desert Sun Photo)

Leo Tolstoy's 'War and Peace' Novel Termed One of All-Time Great Films

(A Review)

If it is at all possible to make a simple statement about a three-hour, twenty-eight-minute motion picture, it would have to be said that "War and Peace," which bowed in Wednesday at the Plaza Theatre, is one of the greatest films of all time.

There is no point of departure in reviewing the mammoth production that does not end in superlatives, whether spectacle, performance, story, color, camera work, or just plain entertainment value. It is not merely a huge motion picture, it is a hugely engrossing, tremendously moving one, a milestone in movie history.

THE PONTI-DE LAURENTIS Production, presented by Paramount, is based on Leo Tolstoy's 1400-page novel, generally considered the greatest work of fiction ever written. An outstanding cast, headed by stars Audrey Hepburn, Henry Fonda and Mel Ferrer and co-stars Vittorio Gassman, Herbert Lom, Oscar Homolka, Anita Ekberg and John Mills, create a gallery of unforgettable portraits that bring the novel to living, breathing life.

Broken down into its components, "War and Peace" is a dozen interwoven stories, revolving around the three loves of Miss Hepburn and Fonda's search for a meaning to Life.

THE BACKGROUND to this vast panorama of human emotions and endeavor is the glittering world of the Russian Imperial court of 1805—pictured in photographic splendor that often surpasses museum painting—a world of hunts, balls, sleigh rides, carousals, duels and gay irresponsibility that is suddenly thrown into turmoil by the invasion of Napoleon.

Through seven years of war, from Austerlitz, through bloody Borodino, the burning of Moscow, Napoleon's retreat from the holocaust and his final defeat at Berezina, the Vista Vision, Technicolor cameras of director King Vidor create some of the most awesome military and human spectacle you

with Hildy Crawford

Thanksgiving holiday stretched out into a week long affair for many of the city dwellers... who came seeking desert warmth and sunlight... and many are lingering through the weekend... This makes this a typical Palm Springs weekend of houseguests and small luncheons and dinners... Some will be entertaining at the Chi Chi... to see the new Starlite Room and give their guests an opportunity to hear Ella Fitzgerald... and many will be taking their guests to the Sunday Brunch at the Ranch Club... They'll be strolling along Palm Canyon... looking in the shop windows... and even doing a bit of Christmas shopping... but most of them will just be recovering from a tremendous Thanksgiving...

Helen and Walter Braunschweiger left today for Mexico City... They will go on to Yucatan where Walter, who's a member of the Mexican-American committee for the United States Chamber of Commerce, will be attending a meeting... The two of them will then go to Havana... and then to Miami, where they'll be guests of RCA... According to their plans... they will be back in Los Angeles December 7... and down here by the 10th... They expect to spend Christmas and New Years here at their Rocky Point home...

Pat and Wade Ambrose were at their LaJolla home... entertaining at a family dinner on Thanksgiving day...

It was a quiet Thanksgiving for Mickey and George Wheeler... as their family couldn't be with them... but they will compensate for this with a weekend celebration... with Dr. and Mrs. Fred K. Sutterlin and Dr. and Mrs. J. H. West, who will be down from Los Angeles... It'll be a reunion for George, Fred and Jim... who were young men around town together 33 years ago... and have kept up their friendships through the years... The three couples will do the town...

The Alphonzo Bells, popular L.A. socialites and frequent Village visitors... are spending Thanksgiving week at the Racquet Club...

When Melba and Frank Bennett and daughter Dede leave here in early January... to train to Washington D.C. for the inauguration ceremonies... they won't be back for a year... as they sail January 23 on the Constitution... Present plans are to pick up a Volkswagen in Spain... Their plans include skiing in the Pyrenees, fishing in Northern Spain and hunting next fall... Their friend Senora Adela Merry del Valle who visited the Bennetts in Palm Springs will accompany them on their tour through Spain, Portugal and Majorca... Their other plans are elastic but they do expect to be in Germany in May for the Music Festival...

The Ernest Alschulers of Chicago have leased the Bennett home... and will arrive January 5 to occupy it...

Lillian and Franklyn B. MacCarthy went in to Beverly Hills to spend Thanksgiving Day with their daughter and son-in-law Virginia and Clifford Heinz and their children... Also in the family group were the MacCarthy's other daughter Lorraine Hogan and son Mark...

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Roth had a family dinner at their home at 500 East Amado... with her father Felix Orsini and her sister Jean Orsini, and a cousin Mary Stiel as guests... The Orsinis and Miss Stiel are here from Chicago for a fortnight's visit...

Mrs. Bruce Thomas and daughter Susan came down from Riverside where Mrs. Thomas is teaching in the college... to spend Thanksgiving Day guests of June and Ross Clark at their Thunderbird home were... Dr. Robert Lumsden (film industry favorite dentist) and his wife and son Bob, who is a student at UCLA... and Dr. Nicholas Berzel, Beverly Hills neurologist... Also home for the holidays was the Clark's daughter Sandra Lee, who is a senior at Bishop...

The Monte Herberts will be down this weekend... and Bettye has invited around two dozen women to a Saturday luncheon at the Racquet Club... The luncheon will celebrate the birthday of Vicki Malouf...

This is an old story, I think... but I only heard it this past week... When Joe Schenck sold his house in West Los Angeles... to Bill Keck, the oil man... Keck demolished the old bathhouse by the pool and in excavating for some underground pipes... he struck OIL... Of course, it had to be capped because it's in a restricted district... but, wouldn't you just know it!

Muriel and Lee Bering were here for the weekend... and at the Chi Chi Saturday night to catch the Lillian Roth show... This was Lee's first real excursion since his operation... and his many Palm Springs friends were delighted to see him looking so well...

(Listen to Hildy Crawford, Monday through Friday, at 11:30 a.m., on KDES, 920 on your dial.)

Christmas Program
Coachella Valley Pan-Hellenic will have a Christmas program when they hold their December luncheon meeting at Shadow Mountain Club on December 13 at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. James O'Reilly and Mrs. James Ketchersid are in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Pearl Wheeler Martin arrived last week in time for the Founders Day picnic, and has opened her home at 2540 Araby Drive. She came to Palm Springs 25 years ago, spending the first winter at Deep Well Guest Ranch.

B.W. Club Welcomes New Members

Festive gilt leaves, small pumpkins and miniature turkeys decorated the tables Monday evening, when 60 members of Palm Springs Business Womens Club gathered at Laury's Steak Ranch for a steak dinner.

Munya Smoot and Jennie Leone-sio had used beautiful fall colors for the decorations and made small harvest pin-ons to welcome new members attending the dinner. Sally Ohrt acted as hostess welcoming new members Juanita Dunsworth, Betty Gilkinson and Alyce Walker.

Entertainment following dinner included a Christmas duet by Alex and Wynne Hammond, the popular "Wanting You," and a comedy number "Walking down the Avenue." Lois Lux was the accompanist. Alyce Walker (KCMJ's Alice Blue Gown) did a spontaneous piano number, presenting her song "In the Pink on Palm Canyon Drive." The ever popular Jeanne Keller then did a number of request songs.

Club president Tess Potter presided at the dinner.

Board members were hostesses, with Lola Wacek, chairman, assisted by Ruby Chapin, Sally Ohrt, Mildred Veano, Mary Sullivan, Edith Goldberg, Louise Purnell, and Estelle Schiller, who was dinner chairman.

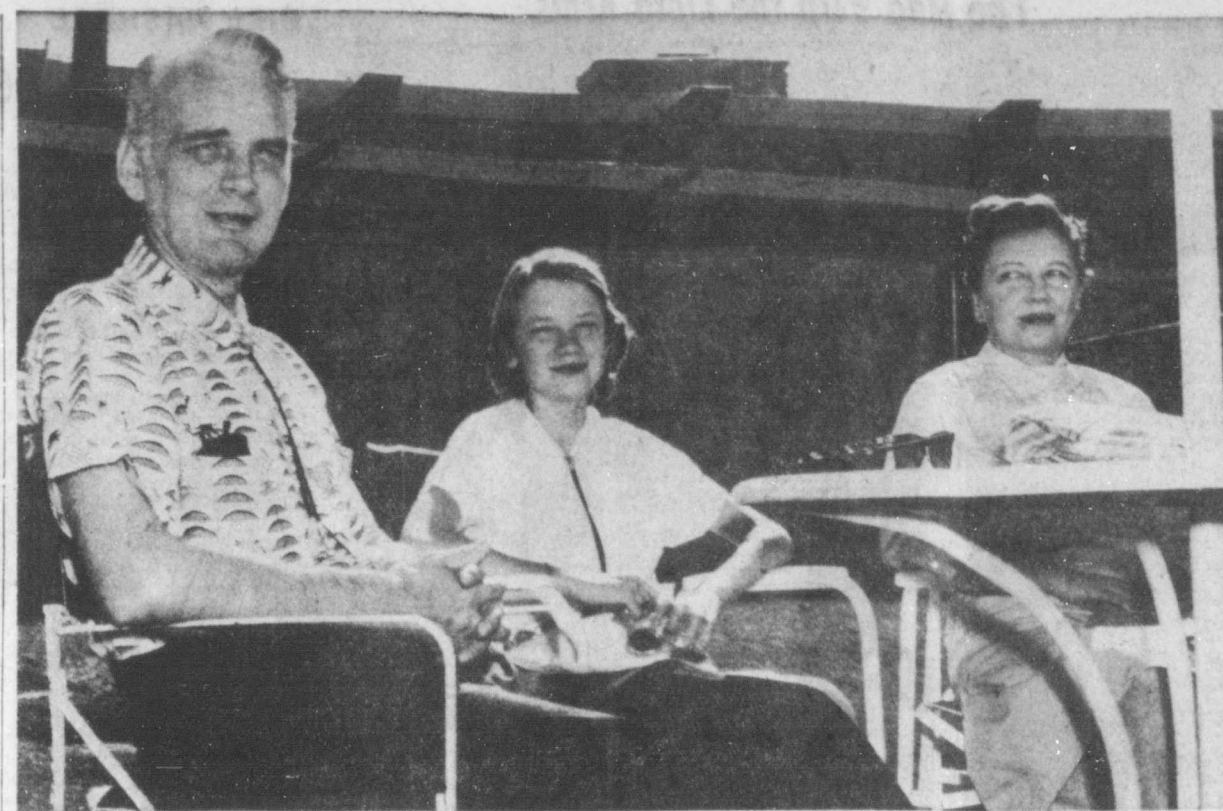

Of current interest is the forthcoming Gaslight Gaieties scheduled for early February. The cast has already been selected and rehearsals started for this 10th annual presentation.

Women Buyers Outnumber Men by Margin of 5 to 1

This month five women have bought Palm Springs real estate and only one man and wife represent the male contingent. Anyway, this is what happened in the Ransom real estate office.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Trinkle of Reno, Nevada, purchased the magnificent residence of Mrs. Paulette Johnson in the Deep Well Estates area. Dr. Trinkle has been practicing medicine in Reno for over 20 years and has moved to Palm Springs where he will open an office after the first of the year. The Trinkles have one child, a daughter who will enter school here.

Mrs. Gladys Wilkinson Lawrence purchased the John Schwarzer residence. Mrs. Lawrence is an extensive traveller, usually going around the world at least once each year. Mrs. Nan Deverich purchased a 10 acre unimproved ranch site which she will eventually develop in a western style rancho.

Mrs. Gladys Anderson purchased a triplex from Mrs. Gladys Allard and will take possession of it next week.

Mrs. Marie Turley of Palos Verdes Estates purchased the ranch type dwelling of Mrs. Linda McLennan in Banning which she is completely dedecorating for use as a summer home. Mrs. Turley's daughter Helen owns one of the finer Palm Springs homes where her mother is a frequent winter visitor.

It may be that November is not women's month other places, but it certainly has been notably so with Ransom Realty Office.

Mrs. Virginia McLaughlin and two children, Mary and Dennis, went in to North Hollywood to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schmidt. Around two dozen will be gathered around the festal board for the dinner which honored Mr. and Mrs. George Keeley of Cleveland.

Society to Hear Missionary Talk And View Movie

"Beachhead in Japan" will be the subject of Charles Corwin's message to the Missionary Society, Monday, November 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Church, Mrs. Myron Persons announced.

A film entitled "Conversion of a Shinto Priest" will also be shown. Corwin's four daughters will appear in Japanese costumes and will sing songs in the Japanese language. It was during the time that Corwin was in the merchant marine and later the Navy that he became interested in doing missionary work in Japan. He entered Fuller Institute for his theological training and went directly to Japan upon graduation. Now on furlough at the present time, he will subsequently return to the Orient.

Christmas Play At Padua Hills

The thrilling story of Christmas in Old Mexico has opened its 25th season in Claremont at the Padua Hills Theatre.

Reviewers attending the colorful opening night production of "Las Posadas" on November 14 praised the performance featuring the famed Mexican Players.

Alicia de la Torre, sparkling singer and dancer, carried the lead role as the mother of Panchita, while comedy was supplied by Joe O'Beo as the father and Gilberto Flores as the pinata vender during their haggling over the price of a pinata.

The pinata, which in many ways is the Mexican counterpart of the Christmas tree, is a decorated clay jar that holds gifts at Yuletide.

Reviewers were high in their praise of the dramatic lighting effects obtained during the colloquio in the second act, which is adapted from a shepherd's play of Panchita's dream about the events leading to the birth of Christ.

The juvenile roles featured two newcomers, Alicia and Daniel Sevilla, who are real life cousins.

"Las Posadas" will be staged at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday with matinees at 2:30 p.m. Wednesdays and Saturdays. The play will run until January 5.

The Padua Hills Dining Room is open daily except Monday. Reservations for theatre, dining room or both may be made by calling LYcoming 5-1288.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Krysan of 677 North Calle de Marcus, spent Thanksgiving at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Walsh of Riverside.

Mock Drumsticks Please Youngsters

To please young appetites, try mock drumsticks.

Combine 1 pound of ground beef; ½ cup rolled oats; 2-3 cup of tomato juice; ¼ cup of chopped onion; 1 teaspoon of salt; and ¼ teaspoon of pepper. Shape into six drumsticks, then insert into each a wooden skewer which can be purchased from most butcher shops. Roll in bread crumbs and chill for a few minutes. Then brown on all sides in a little shortening in a skillet. Cover and let cook slowly 10 minutes longer.

YOU KNOW HOW

Millions and millions of dollars are being spent every year on medical research for the battle against disease. Billions and billions are being spent by America in an effort to sustain world peace. All of this that we may be able to live longer and healthier lives. But the greatest killer of all—the one that has taken more lives and injured people—is the traffic accident.

The sad part of it is that the methods by which the greatest loss of life can be prevented are common knowledge. No research is really needed—except perhaps in building safer highways. Most people know how to drive their automobiles in a way that will prevent accidents. The fact is that almost 99 percent of all traffic accidents are due to acts of drivers who know better.

The only hope, therefore, of reducing the slaughter on the streets and highways of America is through driver education. There are many people who do not know how to operate an automobile properly but it is not so much the inexperienced drivers who cause trouble—it is the ones who might be called "expert" drivers. They might even know how to drive a car too well.

So the prevention of accidents is largely a matter of prevailing upon people to drive more carefully. The responsibility falls largely upon the National Traffic Safety Council with its state, county and city councils. These groups are composed of mostly volunteers—and they don't have the millions to work with like the huge medical research groups. The National Safety Council is one of the most important organizations in the nation. Its purpose is to save as many lives as all the others put together.

Safety Starts at Home

One of the most important functions of the National Safety Council is encouraging the organization and active support of local safety councils. Such a group has recently been organized in Palm Springs. It is deserving of the support of every resident.

The place for local residents to become accustomed to driving more carefully and courteously is right on the streets of the Village. Furthermore, the great increase in traffic in and through Palm Springs makes caution much more necessary than it was a few years ago. We have no electric signals and not enough police officers to direct traffic. It is strictly up to the drivers themselves to be cautious, courteous and sensible drivers. It will not only save lives but make Palm Springs more enjoyable for our visitors if we will be patient and courteous. That's a good way to learn SAFE DRIVING also.

Keep this thought in mind the next time you get behind the wheel of your car and start to town. You do KNOW HOW!

GRAND, ISN'T IT

From the Salisbury (N. C.) Post

Things are really looking up for the Soviet worker. Now he can no longer be thrown in jail for quitting his job. . . . Under the new labor decree those guilty of infractions of work discipline will not be hauled into court. Instead they can be fined, fired, demoted or deprived of bonuses and seniority by management. Grand, isn't it?

SURVIVAL BY SERVICE

From the Spokane-Valley Herald

The Spokane Valley is an example of an area in which small business concerns predominate. . . . Most of them are doing what the founders intended, offering bread and butter while providing a measure of independence. . . . Where the small business man has attempted to give service, keep good account of his operation and stays cheerful while putting in long hours, he has survived.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Advise Halo Shampoo to Sponsor Sheen

Following my comments here about possible sponsors for Bishop Fulton Sheen's TV show in local markets throughout the country, a reader writes: "The show should be sponsored nationally by one sponsor. The logical bank-roller for the Bishop, I should think, would be Halo Shampoo!" . . . Arizona Savings & Loan, a $19,000,000 corp., has taken over operation of the Paradise Valley Racquet Club in Phoenix. Joanne Dru and John Ireland, who built it and are now divorcing, are retaining only some of the stock. It was a loss for them. The Arizona outfit will build 20 rental units on the property, for lease at $75 a day in an attempt to get some of the dough back. . . . Rock Hudson celebrated his 31st birthday a week after his first wedding anniversary. . . . Fox bought Irwin Shaw's "The Young Lions" and Al Lichtman will produce it. . . . Producer Sammy Fuller's suggestion on how to make the Winter Fly: Sign a promissory note due in the spring.

DESIGNER EDITH Head's line at the Fashion Editors' show at the Ambassador Hotel: "Now here, girls, is a dress that women love to wear but hate to see other women wear!" . . . Does it shatter you to know that the next Friday the 13th won't be on our backs till September 1957? . . . Producer Roger Gorman seems intent on supplying the movie industry with its biggest crop of horrors d'oeuvres. He is producing "Attack of the Crab Monsters." "The Beast with a Million Eyes." "Not of This Earth" and "The Undead." . . . Maitre d' Manuel de Ciro's signed a contract with Union Oil Company and they're digging a well in his backyard, right here in Hollywood. . . . Joan Davis's definition of a conversation between females: Who, what, when, where.

PLEASE, WHERE'D Terrance Rattigan get that terrible self-conscious dialogue for "The Sleeping Prince"? All that's lacking in the show, now playing at Hollywood's Huntington Hartford Theatre, is a six-man band tooting Lehar and Strauss. . . . Bulldozing of the old home of Louise Fazenda and Hal Wallis in Van Nuys, which was taken over by the Sovereign State of California under its "right of eminent domain," makes way for 10 acres to be used for new homes selling for $25,000 and up, with another 20 acres to be occupied by the new Milliken Junior High School. . . . Gavin Gordon, Garbo's leading man in "Romance" (her second all-talkie), has a good character role in an upcoming segment of TV's "The Brothers."

TV TOPICS — Rudy Vallee, the Elvis Presley of his day, is making a TV comeback. Agent Frank Cooper has set the durable crooner for "Matinee," for the Rosemary Clooney Show and for several others. . . . Bob Hope is running out of frigid spots for his Christmas TV shows. In 1954 he was in Thule, Greenland. Last winter he was in Keflavik, Iceland. This year it's an Air Force base at Anchorage, Alaska. No names are set as yet but you can bet he'll have something beautiful and blonde for the boys. . . . Jerry Lewis captures some of the old Jolson spirit in his recording of "Rockabye Your Baby with a Dixie Melody," yet manages to make it strictly his own styling. It's a good record. . . . Joe E. Lewis says, "I don't drink anything stronger than pop, and pop will drink anything."

A TV STATION in Hollywood gives these reasons for discontinuing local news shows: Viewing audiences have been so small, as measured by the rating services, that the station, a network affiliate, could snag a sponsor—with the result that $2,500 a week has been going down the sustaining drain. . . . The world we live in: Cleo Roberts, covering the current Middle East and Hungarian upheavals for Hollywood's KNXT (the CBS TV outlet here), put these items on a recent expense account and his bosses didn't even bat an eyelash: one automobile purchased in Vienna (because Cleo couldn't rent one to get to the Hungarian border), and a taxi cab ride around the Sinai Peninsula. . . . When and if Carey Grant ever guests on Ray Anthony's show, be sure you're around to watch the fun. These two look more alike than Zsa Zsa and Eva Gabor! . . . Marriage is wonderful, says Alfred Hitchcock. It's just the living together afterward that's so darned difficult!

Doodles

By ROGER PRICE

"GUEST'S VIEW OF HOTEL DETECTIVE"

Dr. Schweine, who posed for this Doodle, agreed to do so only if I'd give a little free publicity to some of the new gadgets he's just invented for Hotels, so here they are: 1. A 21-inch Keyhole for the benefit of Chambermaids who never get to see Television. 2. Cast Iron Soap. 3. Ether-dipped mattresses for guests who don't have much faith in "Do Not Disturb" signs. 4. A cross between a sheep dog and a bolt of terry cloth which results in a towel that runs back to the hotel after the guests steal it. Dr. Schweine claims that if a big hotel magnate like Conrad Hilton would buy these ideas they'd both make lots of money. Anyway Dr. Schweine would.

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

All day today
We fuss and fret.
Could it have been
Something we eat?

The people for whom I feel sorry are those on a diet. They didn't have as much for which to be thankful on Thanksgiving Day.

Wonder how much bicarbonate of soda was consumed and those other products which advertise "for that stuffy feeling."

UNDERSTAND THAT the proposal for a by-pass road around Palm Springs to handle through traffic is again being considered. Then the heavy, snorting, fume-distributing trucks won't barge up Palm Canyon Drive.

Villagers going about their business can use wide Indian Avenue, leaving the Drive for the tourists and visitors. That will be a help.

We are sort of inhibited here. Confined to a two-street town, figuring it north and south. Reservation on one side and the mountains on the other.

A PRACTICE which causes consternation in traffic is the habit of visitors here in thrusting an arm out of a car window to point at objects of interest. Especially when the driver does it. It is so conducive to violation of the Seventh Commandment.

For the driver behind doesn't know whether the person ahead is pointing to a movie star, an object of interest or to the place where he got that good dinner the night before.

A LOT OF VILLAGE drivers who are wont to express their thoughts out loud would have a difficult time in the state of Oregon. Up there they have a law on the statute books which imposes a fine for use of profanity on or near a highway. That would certainly make it tough on a man, all dressed up to go places, whose car suddenly developed a flat tire.

Referring again to my auto junket of last Saturday, I emptied a cigarette pack on Santa Ana Canyon and sat on it all the way to Long Beach because my host did not have a litterbag in his car and I did not want to violate the law.

But, passing through Anaheim, we were behind a car the driver of which must have had a terrific head cold. For just as we passed one of those "4300 fine for tossing litter out of automobiles," there was a shower of Kleenex or similar product.

ALMOST A WEEK late with comment on the Sports Side, but I wonder how the California schools in the Pacific Coast Conference feel about last Saturday. You know, they have been talking about pulling out of the PCC because northwest schools are too weak. But look at what Washington State did to UC, Oregon to USC and Washington U to Stanford! The only "pure" school to lose to a "tainted" team was Stanford.

Well, now that we've got Thanksgiving out of the way, do you realize that on Sunday it will be a month until Christmas?

Winter is also coming. And the Town Journal comments that this is the season when the bare limbs are on the trees.

The Man With the Limp Arms

Letters To The Editor

In analyzing the results of the recent election, Tuesday, Nov. 6, probably the most significant result is one that has been hinted at by political analyst but never brought forth into the open. That is that the election of 1956 is a clear indication of the decline and fall of the Republican Party. The magnitude of President Eisenhower's victory merely emphasizes the magnitude of the Republican defeat.

For over two decades, with few exceptions, we have had Democratic administrations and Democratic Congresses. In 1952, on the basis of "It is time for a change," the American people placed in Washington a Republican Congress. Two years later, in spite of the President's popularity, the American people realized that a Republican Congress did not adequately represent them and therefore returned to Congress a Democratic majority.

IT IS SAID THAT in an off-year election this frequently occurs. This may be true. However, in 1956 with President Eisenhower piling such huge majorities on the basis of his personal popularity, the Republican Party could not restore itself to power in the Congress.

Even such Presidential favorites as former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay, Governor Thornton of Colorado, Arthur Langley, the G.O.P. Convention keynote, and even the President's good friend, Jacqueline Cochran Odum, were defeated in their attempt to get Congressional seats.

This is in spite of the President's strongest endorsement and the publicity pointing out that Eisenhower needs "The Team." It appears that the American people realize that Republican Party candidates just do not represent the will of the people.

Two years hence without a President running, the strength of the Republicans in the off-year election will be even further diminished and in 1960, without being led by President Eisenhower, in all probability the Republicans in Congress will be so few that their effectiveness as a party will no longer exist.

BILL RASHALL

Unedited

If you do not know Dave Lyons, then you are unacquainted with a delightful tradition in the City of Palm Springs—namely dining at the Saddle and Sirloin.

If you think this is a plug—well, it is—as Vincent X. Flaherty wrote in the Los Angeles Examiner about a friend of his in a commercial endeavor. And if you think Dave Lyons isn't a friend of mine—at least I think so—you have just one more guess and that will have to be the last one.

As a backdrop about Dave, one of the finest creatures on earth, I must inform you that he served in the U.S. Air Forces during World War II. Certainly I know that a great number of our young men including yours truly, and I am not young any more, served for Uncle Sam. But the reason I'm telling you this is because Dave is a native of England, and so are all of his brothers and sisters.

But back to Dave. He is as phlegmatic as all Englishmen are; nevertheless, enough of Americanism has seeped in to make him quite the unusual person. He hasn't the accent of the Englishman but every once in a while he will come up with "I bloody well think—this is so and so."

The Saddle and Sirloin is something unique too. It is an honor for the City of Palm Springs to have such a restaurant within its confines. The food (and this is definitely a plug) is delicious. He has had the same crew working for him for years, even during those early days when he operated "Mr Dees" across the street from the present location of the Saddle.

There is one thing I must tell you about Dave. No matter how much he admires you, no matter how much he may dislike you, you are the king when you walk into his place of business for either a cocktail or dinner.

HIS PLACE — the Saddle — caters to the finest clientele in Palm Springs. And to go back to whether he likes or dislikes you, I've never heard him say one word in criticism about any one.

Like all Americans of English decent, or maybe it's just Dave, his "hello" may be subdued. As a result, you will entertain the thought that he doesn't like you any more or has forgotten that he met you here or there. That will be an erroneous impression. It's just Dave and that's all.

He has a lovely wife by the name of Jerry, a beautiful woman. She is the mother of three sons about which Dave is inordinately proud, as is his wife, of course.

Jerry runs a menage dedicated to the needs and life of her husband. Sure, there's the proverbial English tea hour as you might well guess, old chap. Jerry came around to that habit a long time ago. Today, she loves tea and crumpets when she can find them or have them baked.

Just the same, couple the Saddle and Sirloin with Solomon's which is also operated by Dave. Then add the Coronet Lodge which he also owns. To me the operation of all three would take most of the day and night out of anyone's life. But Dave thrives on all of this activity.

Personally, plug or not, I'll bow in the direction of one Dave Lyons, his lovely wife and their three sons. All good citizens of this great community.

WONDER IF YOU'LL get as much of a kick out of the following as we did. Mrs. Henry Passow, recently returned from England, stepped into our office to recite the following:

"You know, I met two very charming ladies in England who made this request of me: 'when you get back to Palm Springs please insert an ad in your Palm Springs' paper that there are two Englishwomen who would like to babysit for two gentlemen over 80 years of age.'"

That's enough for today.

EARL WILSON:

Groucho Likes Few at Parties

NEW YORK—Groucho Marx is permitting us to give him a party. He couldn't make it on one date suggested—so I proposed we give him a party without him.

Your suggestion of having a party for me without me is a very sensible one," he fired back. "This could be improved even more by having you give it without you!"

Anita Ekberg belted a fresh kid who made a lewd grab at her very personal property outside Steve Allen's show. Tony Steele'd have flattened him, "cept he was too young. . . . Marilyn Monroe fainted in Arthur Miller's arms in England, and the baby rumor cracked again. But Mrs. Milton H. Greene tells me 'tain't so. MM'll be here 'ere Dec. 1."

Earl's girl for today—$150-an-hour figure model Lois Collins, of Denver and Dallas—spurns the married millionaires and big male stars to study acting here and go home nights to her small son. . . . Globe-trotter Annie Pie Sheridan's drydock by that Mexican wife's love piracy blast. If she leaves the U.S., she might get pinched by the whole Mexican militia.

GEORGIE JESSELD just phoned his new gal, singer Marcia Powell, in Palm Springs.

"I can't keep track of your girls," I confessed.

"I have that very same trouble with them!" groaned Georgie.

It took Bob Hope many hours to film his next TV-er—but the audience at the Century enjoyed it. Especially his ribbing of guest star Perry Como, who, Bob said, is so relaxed that he takes tranquilizing pills "for excitement." When Bob told Perry, "I didn't sleep on your program," Perry adlibbed, "Yeah, but you didn't tell me this was a telethon!" On the subject of Perry's records, Bob said, "Frank Sinatra also sells a lot of records—but then he goes along as the needle."

Mickey Rooney flew in from Hollywood to woo Jane Kean and discuss following Sammy Davis Jr. in "Mr. Wonderful." Jerry Lewis made his second guest appearance at that show—and rode half way to the ceiling with the curtain.

SMALL TOWN STUFF: It's funny, but the great Manhattan telephone directory with its 1836 pages doesn't have some of the simple names that meant so much to me in the thin little Rockford, O., phone book years and years ago.

I can't find the name "Seidenbender" in the Manhattan book—Johnny Seidenbender was my buddy—nor the short little name "Foor," that being the name of a lovely girl I knew.

"Risher" is in the Manhattan directory, but there's only one "Zizelman"—a poor showing for a big city—and I must say I was unhappy not finding more "Dudgeons" and "Van Tilburgs" and "Lemeroux." Sometimes I wonder if my little whistle stop wasn't more of a melting pot than "Noo Yawk."

ON PHIL SILVER'S show, Comic Joe E. Ross was having his "world premiere" so he asked 30 friends in—but alas, he had no TV set. He had them squat on the floor in the lobby of the Hotel Bryant, in front of the hotel set—which faltered right at show time. Somebody handed Joe E. a pot ofphony roses pilfered from a lobby display. A call came in while the show was on. "NOW? ARE YOU KIDDIN'?" bawled the hero. After the show, Joe E. was given a big "world premiere" party at Arele's, on Delancey St. Next week? "I'd like to get a 21-inch set. . . . but I only have a 17-inch room," he said.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Mary Ellen Terry (the redhead Bing Crosby's dating) got quick calls from RKO and Warners for screen tests. . . . B'way Publicist Dick Maney claimed on Will Rogers Jr.'s show that a satellite's UN delegate promised to defect to the West for two Saturday night tickets to "My Fair Lady." Lawrence Tibbett's out of "Fanny" permanently—doctors' orders. . . . Rod Steiger, reported romancing Diana Dors, was romantically with his ex-wife at the Copa, listening to Nat Cole. . . . DeMille's "Ten Commandments" racked up a 300G advance at The Criterion. . . . Tomis West, who appears in Budd Schulberg's "Face in the Crowd," was at El Boracho with him.

COMIC ARTE ("No Time for Sgts.") Johnson will marry Texie Waterman of Dallas. . . . Zsa Zsa's big worry on the Herb Shriner TV-er: "De camera makes mine ears too big." . . . Radio City Music Hall's marquee for "Friendly Persuasion" spells Dorothy McGuire's name "Mc-Ugure." . . . The bustup's official—there's a "for sale" sign on the John Ireland + Joanne Dru home. . . . Jayne Mansfield switched to actor Bob Campbell.

Joe Louis' entire $41,000 prize, won on Peter Arnell's "High Finance" quiz show, went to the gov't for back taxes. . . . Morty Stevens met a H'wood rarity—someone who DIDN'T know James Dean. . . . Steve Allen's singing protégée, Erin O'Brien, will screen test for the Helen Morgan role. . . . Abraham Lincoln became a grandfather—Raymond Massey's daughter had a baby.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . Old age is that period when you feel your oats and your curts at the same time.—H. G. Hutcherson.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Al Newman says that new movie, when it's shown at Alcatraz, will be retitled "Around the World in 60 to 90 Days."

Miami's new Americana Hotel will be so swank that, says owner Bob Tisch, "After a visit you won't want to go anywhere else. In fact, you won't be able to afford to." That's earl, brother.

ALINE MOSBY, feature columnist for United Press, made a special trip to Palm Springs to secure first-hand information concerning the extensive business interests here of George E. Cameron, Jr., and how he is aiding with the development of the Village. A national-distributed column on Cameron is planned in the near future. Above, Cameron shows Miss Mosby the half-million dollar Springs restaurant in Cameron Center, which is due to open soon. (Desert Sun Photo)

Eastern Cold Wave Extends To Florida's Tip

By UNITED PRESS
The eastern half of the nation was caught in a cold wave which extended as far south as Florida today while Erie, Pa., dug itself out of a 25-inch snowfall.

Snow flurries were to continue today over most of the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley, with some light snow spreading into the upper and middle Mississippi Valleys.

A SNOWSTORM dumped 25 inches of snow on Erie, stranding hundreds of motorists on Thanksgiving. Other sections around Erie reported eight to 10 inches of snow.

MAYOR ARTHUR Gardener however, was considering a declaration of an emergency as industry closed down, idling about 17,000 workers. The big task confronting the Keystone State city was clearing of the huge snowfall from streets and sidewalks.

Air traffic was halted and most highways closed in the area.

LIGHT SNOWFALLS—usually an inch or less—covered the eastern portions of the northern Great Plains and the middle Mississippi Valley. Grand Marais, Mich., however, reported 15 inches of snow on the ground while a 10-inch blanket covered the area around Marquette, Mich.

The most extreme blasts of the cold wave spread across the nation east of the Mississippi descended on the Florida peninsula. Frost covered the north and central portions of the state.

Meanwhile, the "Gold Coast" of southeast Florida — where winter tourists were beginning to arrive—suffered in unseasonable 45 to 55 degree weather Thursday.

FLINT, Mich. — Firemen fighting a blaze inside a warehouse Thursday were buried in snow. The heat of the fire caused several hundred cans of artificial snow to explode and heavy flakes floated down on the firefighters.

Molotov Promotion Worsens Bitter Power Struggle Inside the Kremlin

By KENNETH BRODNEY
Written For The United Press
The power struggle inside the Kremlin has reached a new stage of fierceness with the appointment of Vyacheslav M. Molotov as minister of state control.

The move, coupled with Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev's growing belligerence and continuing pressure for freedom both inside Russia itself and in its satellite empire, shows a mounting Kremlin desperation.

The Poles have just won sweeping concessions in running their own internal affairs.

THE HUNGARIANS, bloody, hungry, ravaged by starvation and disease, remain unbowed.

Less visibly to the outside world, the Russian people are increasingly restless themselves and are expressing their discontent more and more openly.

Just before the announcement of Molotov's new and powerful ministerial post, he was reported laying down the law to all Soviet writers, painters, musicians, and other intellectuals.

KHRUSHCHEV sharply warned Russian university students that if they didn't immediately stop their public expressions of discontent and disapproval of the government they would be thrown out of school, and worse.

The Kremlin struggle is fundamentally over which of two policies shall prevail to stop the disaffection:

Grant the growing demands of Russia and satellite peoples, or crack down hard with new controls and punishments.

FOR THE KREMLIN, the one seems almost as bad as the other.

If concessions are made, as in internal controls of the Russians and to the Poles, more concessions will be demanded.

If crushing force is used, as against the Hungarians, the people become more embittered and stubborn.

THE OBVIOUS answer, according to some leaders is to go back to his techniques. The leader of this group is reported to be Molotov, and he seems to be winning the battle.

But not necessarily the war. Because the counter-argument is that it was precisely Stalin's technique that created the hatreds, discontents, and disloyalties that are now rearing up and kicking the Kremlin in the teeth.

AND THIS ARGUMENT — supposedly the Khrushchev argument — is that the basic disease must be cured if the Soviet empire is ever to have any lasting strength.

The Molotov appointment could signal the forthcoming downfall of Khrushchev.

But it could just as easily represent a squeeze-play, with Molotov himself being prepared as the Stalinist scapegoat.

U.S. Accident Toll Hits 189 On Thanksgiving

CHICAGO — A holiday death toll in excess of National Safety Council predictions grimly closed Thanksgiving Day festivities.

The council had hoped the death toll between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Thursday would fall below the 110 traffic deaths for a non-holiday Thursday at this time of year.

A United Press count for the period showed 130 persons were killed in traffic accidents. Fifteen died in fires, two in a plane crash, and 22 from miscellaneous causes, for an overall holiday death toll of 189.

Michigan turned in the worst record with 15 traffic deaths during the 30-hour period. Pennsylvania was next with 13, Illinois had 12, Ohio nine, and California eight.

Indian Rail Crash Kills 50, Hurts 50

First reports said a crowded express running from Tuticorin to Madras was derailed when tracks weakened by floods and heavy rain shifted.

Medical aid and relief supplies were being rushed from Madras to the accident scene.

Unusual Hybrids Of Camellias Are Available Here

The Camellia is a favorite flower for California gardeners because of the unusual, exotic flowers and highly ornamental waxy-green foliage. And the unusual Camellia has in its midst some hybrids that are even more unusual.

The All America selection Ciderella is one of these. It is a C. japonica sport and has the distinction of being the first chosen by the All America Camellia Society formed five years ago.

Tinsley is the name of an unusual Camellia variety. Its blossoms are small in size, something like a gentleman's boutonniere, which makes it popular with men. The outside petals of the flower are red; the inside is white. A species cross is J. C. Williams, which was hybridized in England. Its unusual quality is the great number of flowers it produces — almost one at every leaf. The blossoms are smaller but the individual plant gives a longer flowering season.

Hong Kongensis, another unusual Camellia hybrid, is a very new variety with long leaves unlike the usual Camellia foliage. Its flowers are single and rose colored; new growth is a deep purple-red, attractive enough to make it worth planting just for this color, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Almost 10 years ago several new Camellia reticulata varieties were brought into California from China, and after growing in experimental gardens several have been made available to gardeners, including Shot Silk, Purple Gown and Crimson Robe. New C. Sasanqua varieties are also available now: Pink Snow, Jean May and Ocean Springs which can be grown as shrubs, ground covers or vines.

New Electric Control Devices Make Button-Type Light Switch Obsolete

The days of the electric light switch and other button-type electrical control devices found in the home are numbered. A new trend is under way to do away with this long-standing symbol of America's constant effort to live better electrically.

In the forefront of this trend are two recent developments. One is a lamp that can be turned on or off by mere touch of a hand. The other is a dial in place of the traditional wall switch that can adjust the intensity of light in the room to any desired degree—from full brilliancy to complete "off."

THE TOUCH-CONTROL lamp has a specially designed electronic switch control built into its base. The lamp can be turned on or off just by touching the base with the hand. These lamps do not require any additional current, they are shockproof, static-proof and are unaffected by temperature changes. Most important, they are quite safe, exceeding 25 times the safety requirements of the Underwriters' Laboratories.

The advantages of being able to dial any desired degree of light in a room are obvious. Not only can a light of specific intensity flatter and enhance one's complexion, but very often the lighting at lower intensities can dramatize draperies, special wall pieces, and add substantially to the decor of a room.

THESE SPECIAL light-dials can be installed by an electrician quickly and easily, without any fuss or tearing down walls. The heart of the dial system is a variable transformer. By turning the dial this variable transformer cuts down the amount of electricity reaching the light bulbs, thus causing them to dim. Thus the same light source can serve to give bright, strong light for work or

Portable Walls Now on Market

Latest invention for open area homes is a lightweight, portable room divider or wall section which can be moved like furniture.

These sections appear as storage cabinets for linen, books, records and china.

Made of Douglas fir or other suitable softwood, they can be finished in the modern motif to conform with contemporary or traditional decorative schemes.

Canyon Drive. Farrell bought his first home in the Village when he first came here, after a visit to the old Hicks office at 813 North Palm Canyon Drive, being taken there by his co-star in Seventh Heaven, Janet Gaynor. (Desert Sun Photo)

Use Rosin as Tint

If you like a little color in your wood paneled walls then you might find out about the new pigmented resin finishes, which are a thin tinted varnish.

When used on woods like Douglas fir, the coloring pigment is absorbed by the wood and becomes a part of it while still showing the beauty of grain and texture.

L.A. High Jumper Leads U.S. to Two of First Four Gold Medals in Olympiad Opener

MELBOURNE, (AP) — Inspired American athletes swept up two of the first four Gold Medals in the 1956 Olympic Games today when slender Charley Dumas of Los Angeles soared to a record victory in the high jump and mighty little Chuck Vinci of York, Pa., outlifted the world's best bantam-weight strong men.

In a record-shattering day indicating the XVI Olympiad may well produce the greatest number of new marks in history, all four Gold Medal winners and the second and third-place performers in each of those events surpassed Olympic records set in 1952.

THE OTHER TWO gold medals fell to Vladimir Kuts, the sturdy Russian sailor, who bagged the 10,000-meters run in the new Olympic time of 28 minutes, 45.6 seconds, and to shapely Olga Fikotova of Czechoslovakia, who joined the record-setting parade with a toss of 176 feet, 1 1/2 inches in the women's discus.

In the weight-lifting hall, Vinci set three new Olympic marks en route to his bantamweight crown. And as darkness descended over the vast Melbourne Cricket Club Stadium Dumas climaxed the day by slithering over the cross bar at six feet, 11 1/4 inches. It was a full three inches better than the Olympic record set by Walt Davis of the United States in the 1952 games at Helsinki.

EXCEPT FOR A surprise defeat of Yale's eight-oared crew, an upset that injures but doesn't eliminate America's chances in that event, the first full day of Olympic competition was a spectacular success for the Yanks.

SPRINTERS IRA Murchison of Chicago and Bobby Morrow of Harlingen, Tex., tied the Olympic 100-meter dash record of 10.3 seconds as they qualified for the semi-finals along with Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kan.

In addition, all three U.S. 400-meter hurdlers won qualifying heats, all three 800-meter runners qualified for the semifinals, American crews won heats in seven different rowing classes, and George Lambert of Sioux City, Iowa, shot into a surprise lead in the modern pentathlon by winning the cross country riding phase.

DUMAS, A 19-year-old student at Compton Junior College and the only man in the world who has cleared seven feet, had to make 14 leaps to sweep the high jump crown from Chilla Porter of Australia. Porter finished second at six feet, 10 1/4 inches and Igor Kacharov of Russia was third at six feet, 9 1/4 inches — also better than the old Olympic mark.

With the pressure mounting in the darkness, Dumas cleared six feet, 11 1/4 inches on his third try of the last round. He later made one crack at seven feet, hoping for an even better Olympic record, but after one failure, he gave it up.

KUTS GAVE Russia its first track victory ever in Olympic competition as he came flying down the cinder track and bettered by 31.4 seconds the record chalked up in 1952 by the fabulous Czech, Emil Zatopek.

As the fair-haired Russian thrashed through the last of 25 laps he looked like another Zatopek with his face contorted, arms and legs working like a machine.

JOSEF KOVACS of Hungary was a surprise second in 28:52.4 and Allen Lawrence of Australia was third in 28:53.6. All surpassed Zatopek's mark of 29:17 set at Helsinki. Kovacs and Lawrence closed fast to pass Britain's unpredictable Gordon Pirie, who faded badly after making it a two-man race with Kuts for most of the grind.

The first three finishers in the women's discus, led by the comely Czech medical student, all broke the old Olympic mark of 168 feet, 8 1/2 inches set four years ago by Russia's Nina Ponomareva who finished third today though she bettered her own record.

IRINA BEGIAKOVA of Russia was second and Earlene Brown, 225-pound Los Angeles housewife and mother, finished fourth just three inches short of the old record. Vinci, a compact five-footer, gave the United States its first gold medal in a competition so close that four men broke the old Olympic record. The 123-pounder from the weight-lifting capital of the United States — York, Pa. — lifted a total of 754.45 pounds, bettering the mark of 694 pounds set in 1952 by Russia's Ivan Udodov.

Russell Gives U.S. 98-40 Win Over Japanese

MELBOURNE, (AP) — All-American Bill Russell, in action only 13 minutes, led the United States to a 98-40 victory tonight over Japan in its first game in defense of the Olympic basketball title.

For a few minutes early in the game, the U.S. team gave its supporters some anxious moments when it fell behind 13-17 against the undersized Japanese.

BUT THE SIX-foot-10 Russell's entry into the game turned the tide almost immediately. The brilliant former University of San Francisco star came off the bench with five minutes and 15 seconds remaining in the first half and promptly dropped in two field goals that tied the score at 17-17.

Then Russell and his all-American teammate at San Francisco, K. C. Jones, took charge of the game and led the Americans to a 33-20 halftime advantage. The Yanks never were pressed thereafter.

Velasquez Drubs Billy Evans to L.A. Decision

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Julian Velasquez, 129 1/4, La Habra, had little trouble Thursday night in registering a unanimous decision over Billy Evans, 129, Pasadena, in a 10-round main event at Olympic Auditorium.

Evans, a substitute for Fugie Rodriguez, appeared not in condition and lost every round to the aggressive Velasquez. There were no knockdowns, although Velasquez landed some hard punches.

It was Velasquez's 21st win in 24 bouts. Lonnie Malone, 174 1/2, Los Angeles, nabbed the decision over Franklin Haynes, 174, Los Angeles, in a six-round semi-windup.

Evans, a substitute for Fugie Rodriguez, appeared not in condition and lost every round to the aggressive Velasquez. There were no knockdowns, although Velasquez landed some hard punches.

Japan led for the first nine and one-half minutes of play. Russell, an All-American for the past two college seasons and the United Press player of the year for 1955-56, scored six points for the 13 minutes he was in action.

From the moment he entered the game, the Japanese game became all confusion.

HOST TEAM in the Pacific Coast 8-Goal Tournament Saturday and Sunday at Desert Air Hotel will be the following players, left to right: Willie Tevis, David Moore, Lisle Nixon and Bill Mayberry. Trophies will be awarded by Desert Air. This is the first major outdoor tournament here since the polo playing days of Charles Farrell, according to Nixon, who is in charge of arrangements for the event.

Top Coast Players to Open Polo Tourney Here Saturday

Top polo players on the West Coast with a total rating of 28-goals will swing into action over the weekend, Saturday and Sunday, at the Desert Air Hotel. Play will begin at 1 p.m., and there will be no admission charge. A dinner for all players is scheduled Saturday night at Desert Air Hotel.

The mallet wielders on four teams will be appearing in a Pacific Coast Eight-Goal Tournament to be held in the desert since the Charles Farrell days of polo, according to Polo Impresario Lisle Nixon, Shadow Mountain Stables director, who is handling the event.

SUCH STARS as the venerable Willie Tevis, formerly of the famed Burlingame Hurricanes and now rated at 2-goals, and Bob Smith at 7-goals, will be on hand.

SMITH STAR OF the famous Golden Gate team of San Francisco, will be playing with a group including Todd Helsler, 3-goals, and George K. Davis, 1-goal. These lads add up to a powerful 11-goal combination, without the fourth man to come.

Tevis will join another San Franciscan, David Moore, 2-goals, Bill Mayberry, 1-goal, and Lisle Nixon, in a 5-goal combo, under the Desert Air Hotel banner.

ANOTHER FORMIDABLE team is the Red Diamonds from Palm Springs, with Herschel Bonham, 3-goals, Morrie Morrison, 2-goals, Bill Schults 1-goal, and Ted Pierce. This 6-goal total is enough to offer competition to any team.

Palm Springs Women Will Join Games

Palm Springs will have polo action both Saturday and Sunday too, with women players from Palm Springs, La Jolla and San Bernardino meeting at the Polo Grounds each day, starting at 1:30 p.m.

RIGHT BEHIND the Red Diamond 6-goal power is the Valencia Club from Garden Grove, with 5-goals. The team is made up of Harry Marrell, well known Orange County horseman, Bill Allen and Blaine Stephenson, with a fourth player to be named before time is called.

Following Thanksgiving, Nixon said, polo will be played every Sunday at the Desert Air Hotel field, with a 6-goal tournament scheduled there for the middle of February.

A ten-goal Arena Tournament will be held in January, and the two-goal National Arena Tournament in March will top off the polo season in the desert. Tournament dates have not been set yet.

Arena play will also be scheduled at Palm Springs Polo Grounds and Shadow Mountain field during the winter season on weekends.

DeMarco, Ortega On TV Tonight

NEW YORK, (AP) — Ex-champ Tony DeMarco of Boston, gunning for another shot at the welterweight crown, seeks his fifth straight victory tonight in a 10-rounder with lanky Gaspar Ortega of Mexico at Madison Square Garden.

It will be televised and broadcast nationally NBC at 10 p.m. EST.

Because of his booming left hook, stocky DeMarco is favored at 3-1 to beat the Mexican mauler, who provided last month's big upset by outpointing fourth-ranked Isaac Logart of Cuba, Oct. 17.

Three Traditional 'Big Games' Due This Weekend

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — Three traditional "Big Games" slated for this weekend had alumni, students and football fans in a fever of excitement today up and down the Pacific Coast.

At Berkeley's Memorial Stadium Saturday, 79,000 fans will be ready for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff when the Indians battle California's Golden Bears. It will be the 59th renewal of the rivalry between the two schools.

The game will not be televised unless an "angel" appears to sponsor a telecast at the last minute.

STANFORD IS FAVORED mainly because of the presence of passing great John Brodie on the squad. But it will be the last game for California pilot Pappy Waldorf, who announced his retirement Wednesday. His Bears will be in there fighting for a "last" victory for him.

In other traditional, UCLA meets Southern California in Los Angeles, while Washington plays Washington State at Spokane.

THE BRUINS are favored against the Trojans on the strength of a better record and a stronger defensive line. But the Trojans may come up with a good offense this Saturday. If so, they are likely to shoot holes through the Bruin line.

Washington seems to have the nod over Washington State. However, some experts felt the Huskies may be slightly overconfident on the strength of their showing against Stanford, while the Cougars will be getting by California.

In another game of interest to the West Saturday, College of Pacific clashes with Arizona State at Tempe at night. The Sun Devils rate as strong favorites to defeat COP and record their ninth win in 10 games.

ONE TRADITIONAL western big game took place Thursday at Corvallis, Ore., where University of Oregon tied Pacific Coast Conference Champion Oregon State 14-14.

A 17-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Tom Crabtree to full-back Jack Morris with 1:51 minutes to go was what earned Oregon the deadlock. It was the eighth tie in the 60-year history of the rivalry. Oregon has won 29 games and Oregon State 23.

At San Jose, Fresno State defeated the San Jose State Spartans 30-14. The Bulldogs took advantage of Spartan miscues in the first half to build up a 23-0 lead.

THE HEAVILY favored Idaho Vandals scored two quick touchdowns, then held on against Montana University to win 14-0, at Missoula.

Elsewhere, Humboldt State defeated Whitman College of Walla Walla, Wash., 54-20, at Eureka, Calif.; Monterey Peninsula defeated Hartnell, 24-14, at Salinas; Cal Poly defeated Wichita Falls, Tex., 24-13; Utah defeated Utah State, 29-7, at Salt Lake City; Everett, Wash., J.C., defeated Shasta, Calif., J.C., 39-7; and Los Angeles Valley defeated Santa Monica City College, 13-12.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

MELBOURNE, (AP) — Tears sparked brightly in the round blue eyes of little Ingeborg Fuchs and white teeth nipped carmine lips to check back the emotions as she lined up behind the American flag for the opening Olympic ceremonies.

"This," she breathed softly, "is a long, long way from that concentration camp in Czechoslovakia." Gently, her sister, Doris reached over and patted Ingeborg's arm.

"YES," SAID THE other in a voice which held a note of prayer. "Did you ever see anything as beautiful as that red, white and blue flag?"

Their eyes were fastened to the silken folds of Old Glory as it whipped gently against the cobalt blue of the Australian skies. There were lumps in many American throats as the finest youth of the United States stood straight, strong and fit to march into the Olympic Stadium with the other top athletes of the world.

BUT NONE STOOD straighter and more proud than the two pretty German girls from Rochester, N. Y., who by the grace of presidential intervention received the right to represent the United States in Olympic gymnastics.

As children in the Black Forest village of Villengen they had played at gymnastics and, when the family moved to Dusseldorf, they polished their skills. Then came the war with its terrifying ending and the family fled to Czechoslovakia.

"THE RUSSIANS were on the one side of us and the Czechs on the other side," Ingeborg recalled as the serried ranks in red, white and blue formed almost protectively around her. "There was no use of running. So we were placed in a concentration camp." That sold-scoring period left its mark deep inside. "One night the camp was bombed," Ingeborg recalled. "There were many killed."

SHE TOOK A DEEP breath of the warm, free air. "That was terrible," she said with a quick catch in her low voice. "This, this helps to wash it all away."

"But I think that most of all, we my sister and I, can appreciate the beauty of that flag and everything for which it stands."

They needed help, these kids. Their naturalization faced a time-block which would have kept them from representing the United States in the games. President Eisenhower intervened and the red tape was snipped clean. "What more can I say," Ingeborg smiled proudly. "I am an American!"

Hockey Star Wins 35th Shut-Out

By UNITED PRESS
Johnny Bower, a former New York Ranger, notched his 35th lifetime American Hockey League shut-out Thursday night. That superlative performance put Bower and his Providence team today on the threshold of marks they have been coveting all year long.

The 2-0 whitewash of Rochester placed the Reds only one point out of first place and Bower only one shut-out away from the AHL record of 36.

AT THE RECENT dedication of the new Cielo Vista School, members of the Board of Education, school administrators, teachers and parents heard State Senator Nelson Dilworth praise Palm Springs for its attitude toward better and adequate schooling. Immediately following the meeting, officials were pictured talking together at the

By VIRGINIA DAVIS

All the mobile home parks in the Palm Springs desert area are fairly sparkling with a full calendar of parties, dances, community dinners, barbecue suppers, color slides and social gatherings, and the shuffleboard players are taking advantage of these warm fall days preparatory for the coming tournament.

Rancho Park

Tuesday night dance practice became quite a celebration for a "young Rancho couple." Over 250 attended the 52nd wedding anniversary of Jim and Effie Bayley. Jim surprised Effie with the party and the ladies baked over 30 cakes which were served with ice cream and coffee.

Orchard and Rancho Parks were co-hosts for the monthly meeting of the California Trailer Park Association members in the desert area.

John and "Our Nell" Wilson left Saturday for a short shake-down trip with their new travel trailer preparatory to their trip to Alabama and the Deep South.

Laura Saunders and her co-workers prepared several turkeys for the Thanksgiving Dinner. Over 200 were present.

The Waters and Meadings showed their movies of California, Yellowstone, Tetons and Blackhills Sunday evening; made everyone anxious to start traveling again.

Blue Skies Park

Blue Skies Trailer Village furnished a beautiful setting; Jack Boyer served delicious food; and Tex Kidwell rendered melodious entertainment at the first Sunday Brunch of the season scheduled by the new managers, Bea and Harry Heath.

One hundred and forty persons dined around the pool. This is the largest number of guests ever attending the Village's Sunday Brunches. More than 40 persons from Sahara and Ramon Parks joined the tenants of Blue Skies and their friends. These visitors enjoyed the menu and many of them toured through the Village, meeting and chatting with their new acquaintances.

William Perlberg, a Blue Skies stockholder, had a table in the center of the activity, and in his party was his wife Bobbie, Mrs. Henry Busse, Joe Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Popper and their young son, Michel Ray. Michel starred in the "Brave One" which was released recently, and he is currently starring in Mr. Perlberg's new picture "The Tin Star," a Perlberg-Seaton Production being filmed by Paramount Pictures.

The Perlberg Party, was joined by William Cowitt, the casting director of Paramount Pictures and his wife, Elsie, and Mrs. Sylvia Black and her daughter, Carla. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Black are the owners of the Palm Springs Village Print Shop.

AL ROSE, Mrs. Rose, Robert Koch and Joy entertained a table of guests including Anita Haskell Jones, Polly Booth, Bess Bender and Maury Wax, Marty and Ann Cobin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mendelson, Isobel Parker and Alice Walker.

Football enthusiasts retired to the Clubhouse to watch the Los Angeles Rams and the Chicago Bears Game on TV and some of the guests waited their turn to ride in Bea Heath's new four-passenger electric Marketeer golf car with the "surrey fringed top, sharp-noted horn, and flashy red and white color." Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brooks entertained a large group of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Richardson were there and Herb assisted Joe Monroe, a photographer who is working with the presentation of "Successful Retirement," a new magazine that will be published in January of 1957, in suggesting certain pictures that will be of mutual interest to all the readers of this new publication.

May and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wellens.

The guests from Ramon Park were: Tom and Sybil Bowers and Joseph and Minna Branberg.

The management of Blue Skies sincerely hopes that all who attended the first Brunch will make reservations to be at the Brunches on Dec. 9, Jan. 6, Jan. 27, Feb. 17, March 10, March 31 and April 21.

Sahara Park

(Editor's Note: The following is in the form of a letter, telling of park activities.)

Dear Betty:

Remember I told you that I would write you occasionally a little of our happenings in the desert on the outskirts of the "Village."

We are having delightful weather and everyone is out with rakes, trowels, plant food and flats of flowers—spacing the small plants just so, in anticipation of the riot of color and beauty which will be ours and turn our desert sand into vividness which will defy any artist's palette and skill—then looking up another kind of beauty greets us—the blue of the skies—the fleecy floating clouds and grandeur of San Jacinto and San Geronimo mountain ranges.

Now, I must get back to the "right now" plans for the month. We meet informally around the pool with our president, the first Wednesday of each month—to plan and discuss the month's activities. Mrs. Foote, heads the hospitality committee for November.

Twice a week we have games in the Recreation Hall, dances, too, square, pattern and ballroom, for residents and guests. We had a square dance with Larry Davidson as caller. He is a noted caller from Long Beach and vicinity. The first night was a party night with cake and coffee served by the square dance ladies. He is to be the caller every Monday night when we will have just square dances and the dancers from the other trailer parks are invited.

We had a fashion show around the pool, and our first model was Gordon Morris in a Scotch plaid skirt and shorts, leading "Fifi," Frances Kelley's black French poodle, cavorting about, setting the mood for Frenchy's show.

LUNCH WAS HAD around the pool at 12 o'clock and an hour of talk and visiting preceded the show. Midge Miller was the narrator and Ann Day was in charge of arrangements. Very appropriate music was played before and during the show by Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Jester. The models were Ann Day, Ruth Sullivan, Mary Mendens, Lil Seddon, Mary Lee Smith, Peggy Salt, Gladys May, Edie Clark, Frances Kelly, Rena Salkeld and Harriet Wright. There was a grand march around the pool with admiring husband and friends taking pictures.

On Thursday night there was a wonderful party and dance with the Ward and Lillian Strickland orchestra. It was a night of round dancing, pattern and ballroom dancing. Every Thursday night we are going to have this kind of a dance and the other residents from other parks are always welcome.

On Sunday evening some very interesting movies were shown of "Flight to Japan" and "Flight to Austria." These were shown as a courtesy by the Olman Travel Service of Palm Springs.

Enough for now, ELLEN

Notes For Young Readers

By GERRY VANEK

"Wagging Tails" by Marguerite Henry is a book for those of you who love dogs—and that includes just about everybody, doesn't it? On every page you children will find a big, colored picture of a different dog. There is a peppy poodle, a sassy spaniel, a courageous collie, and many, many more. Each one has a special story to tell you!

First we meet the collie named "Bonnie," she was perfectly trained to bring home the sheep. But one night it got very late, and there was no sign of "Bonnie" or any of the sheep in her care. Even her master couldn't guess what had delayed his faithful dog—do you think you can?

Did you know that, long ago, the German Shepherd also began his career as a sheep herder? But, later, during the first World War, he was trained to be a fierce police dog. Now, once again, these very intelligent and trustworthy dogs are being used as a different kind of a "shepherd." Perhaps you have seen them—guiding, leading, and protecting people who are blind. These amazing dogs are so well trained that nothing (not even another friendly dog, or not-so-friendly cat) can make them leave their masters' side. Yes, a guide dog leading his blind master is truly a "good Shepherd" . . .

—and then leaves you there with chewed slippers and suspicious spots on your Mother's best rug. We're practical. We have books like "So You're Going to Get a Puppy," by Colonel S. P. Meek, and then there's another life (and rug) saver called "Care of The Dog," by Will Judy.

When you (and your dog) have passed your basic training, we think you might like to read "The Rin Tin Tin Story" for more advanced information on the training and care of all dogs. Mr. Duncan who gave all this advice to the author, James W. English, ought to know what he's talking about, because he owns one of the most beautifully trained dogs in the world—Rin Tin Tin himself!

So—be seeing you at Desmond's Doggie Bar in town! And, don't forget, Story Hour at the Branch Library every Wednesday afternoon. From kindergarten to third grade at 3 p.m., and fourth grade and up at 4 p.m.

Deckhand Good Turn

ABERDEEN, Scotland, (AP)—A huge wave washed deckhand John Craig overboard from the trawler Dorleen Tuesday and the thought flashed through his mind: "Cheerio, I've had it."

But shortly afterwards another equally large wave washed him back on board while Skipper John Watson was out in a lifeboat looking for him.

Although Switzerland is landlocked, Lakes Constance, Geneva, and Lugano form an important link between the mountainous nation and its neighbors. Lake steamers transport as many as 1,500 passengers each.

Palm Desert

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN
The Palm Desert Woman's Club held its monthly meeting at the Shadow Mountain Club. Mrs. Aletha Quick, a past president, was a guest and led the members in the allegiance to the flag. Mrs. Florence Churchill Casebeer lectured on "This Changing World." The next meeting of the Palm Desert Woman's Club will be its annual Christmas party given in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Bear.

Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor and their daughter, Jackie, of Beverly Hills, will be houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Major Slater over this Thanksgiving weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sensiba entertained their daughter, Mrs. Paddy Heinsbergen, over the weekend. She is a Campfire leader and she arrived with 16 Campfire girls. They are the Oh-we-no troop and their assistant leader, Mrs. Paul Dallinger was also one of the party. They spent Saturday swimming and with a moonlight supper at the Sensiba home. Sunday, these girls hiked three miles into the desert and held their own church service in the open.

The following girls were in the group: Jane Dallinger, Ellen Dworkin, Helen and Zorrelle Gewant, Marlene Studnick, Janet Sebbard, Anita Bleck, Beverly Jones, Sandra Wyner, Barbara Wohl, Diane and Gail Heinsbergen and Debbie Dallinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Markley entertained a small group of friends with a dinner party last Saturday night. It was given in honor of Mrs. Markley's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Schweifer of Yosemite Valley. The guests were all old friends who have spent many years in Yosemite. Mr. and Mrs. Onus Ward of Redlands, Mr. and Mrs. John Bingham and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Smith.

The Palm Desert Public Library announces its new Library hours: Every week day from 3 to 5, except Tuesday, which will have evening hours, 7 to 9, and on Saturday morning 10 to 12 noon. The library has an excellent selection of books and will supply any book that a reader may want.

Mrs. Marion Campbell, who for many years owned and managed Tropical Gardens, is spending this week with her daughter, Mrs. Victor McKee, in Indio. Mrs. Campbell now lives in Coronado.
